Excalibur

On the Air

The senior class proudly presents the "Big Broadcast of 1946" featuring Stars of the Evening (seniors), Rogues' Gallery (juniors), Todays' Children (sophomores), and Kaltenmeyers' Kindergarten (freshman). Other outstanding presentations will be Hour of Charm (band and chorus), Sports Parade (athletics), and Party Line (organizations). Special mention should be given to our director, Mr. Eve, and our technical advisors (school board, principal, faculty and office staff). Okay! On The Air.

EDITION OF 1946

Excalibur

Outstanding Stars of the Evening

Presenting the outstanding seniors of the class of '46. They are: Carl Steuer, class president and Letter Men's Club president; Donna Muzzall, president of the Sunshine Society; Virginia Carter, DAR award winner; Alice Howe, outstanding band member.

The Technicians

MR. EVE WITH SECRETARY, ELLA BLACKSTONE

We wish to present at this time our esteemed Director of Programs, Mr. Eve, who from the control room directs the educational activities at Crown Point.

MRS. MRACEK

Mrs. Mracek prepares the script for our daily broadcasts.

They Keep Us Going

THE SCHOOL BOARD

Crown Point's Technical Advisory Staff efficiently directs the presentation of our daily programs.

MR. ERWIN AND SECRETARY, MARY ELLEN KRETCHMAR

Our expert technician, Mr. Erwin, or better known as our principal, heads the technical staff while Mary Ellen Kretchmar, his secretary, assists.

This is your narrator for the program of the evening—the activities of the class of '46. The chief characters in our drama are the class officers. During their freshman year these parts were taken by Richard Platt, president; Bud Bleiweiss, vice president; and Janet Palmer, secretary-treasurer.

The first class project on the program was the selling of Christmas Cards. These spunky freshmen on February 12, 1943 also sponsored a dance, the Freshman Frolic, featuring the debut of Jimmy Parramore's Dixieland Band.

Dick Platt did a repeat performance in his role as president in 1944. The supporting cast consisted of Harry Lundgren, vice president; George Snip, secretary; Bob Richards, treasurer. These sophomores, one hundred and seventeen strong, held a dance, "The 1944 Special," featuring Joe Horne's Orchestra, after the Holiday Tourney. It was during this year that a member of the class, Ordell Sanders, was fatally injured in an automobile accident.

In their junior year, Carl Steuer secured the coveted role as president; other important characters were Dick Platt, vice president; Bob Cleveland, secretary; and Betty Lisius, treasurer. The performance given by these people was admirable. This class gained the spotlight when they produced outstanding achievements in the field of athletics. Note also in this year that of cheerleaders chosen from the entire school, each was from the junior class. Those special lovers of the footlights participated in the junior play, that great success, "And Came the Spring." "Tulip Time" provided the theme for the prom and Renold Young furnished the syncopated rhythm.

This year Carl Steuer was again on the marquee in the part of president; Dick Platt as vice president; Rose Marie Hegan, secretary; Harry Claussen, treasurer. The entire cast contributed to a popular performance with their donkey basketball game and "Sock-hop" afterwards as one of the senior projects.

All in all, the high school life of the class of '46 has been one of many profitable experiences. This is station SENIORS signing off.

Don't let fall - can't get rid of it!

ROGUE'S GALLERY

Next on our program is the Rogue's Gallery, better known as the Juniors. Those serving a one year term are Donald Lottes as president; John Rohrbach, vice president; John Held, treasurer; and Janet Chittum, secretary. The guards of prison cells 3, 8, and 15 are Miss Lauterbur, Mrs. Cochran, and Mr. Church respectively.

While on parole they marched, giving their "Best Foot Forward", the Junior play on November 2, 1945. Their second major project for the year was the "Holiday Hop", given the last day of the Holiday Tourney. The Juniors provided a lovely prom as a closing project to a well-filled year of activities.

TODAY'S CHILDREN

Turning now to station 1948 on your dial, we hear the experiences of Today's Children, a true to life drama of our own Sophomore class.

The characters in this drama are Dick Steuer, president; Jim Bullock, vice-president; Virginia Kuiper, secretary; and Betty Lowe, treasurer.

We find this class on December 14, sponsoring a dance after the Lowell game—the "Hardwood Hop."

Will this class go on to bigger and better accomplishments? Tune in next year and find out.

MRS. SEAMONSON

MISS JENKINS

Many girls have found the Home Economics course interesting and valuable, under the direction of Mrs. Nesbitt. She, with the aid of her classes, prepares lunch for those students who remain at school during the noon hour.

In physics class, Mr. Watson explains interestingly the laws of the universe.

Next on our program is Miss Mauck. Departments under her direction are English, speech, and dramatics. Thru the years, we find her directing plays, coaching debate teams, and assisting in the production of the yearbook.

All reference for our programs is kept in order by Miss Stoops. She also directs a Freshman English class and a bi-weekly school report, the Inklings.

Behind the scenes, Mr. Church efficiently trains assistants in mechanical drawing and industrial arts.

The conductor of our program "Meet The Band" is Mr. Ready. Under his direction, long hours of practice result in perfect timing and harmony.

Mr. Hale, another member of the production staff, instructs students in the technology of machinery.

MRS. KING

MISS RICKENBAUGH

The second semester found Mrs. Cochran at the "Listening-Post" directing attendance and guidance during the afternoon. In the morning she directed classes in high school mathematics and first and second year Latin.

Mrs. Thomas, in charge of the "Hour of Charm," directs two annual concerts, in which the entire choir participates. She also devotes her time to several special musical groups.

Recently returned from the service, Mr. Carnahan has charge of the personnel of programs in the afternoon. He also directs gymnasium programs and classes in health and safety.

Art and culture become more realistic through Miss Wagner's helpful guidance. She divides her time between the high school and elementary students.

The fundamentals of good English are taught to underclassmen by Miss Lauterbur. Creative writing is especially encouraged.

Mrs. King, director of the Commercial Department gives her knowledge of the business world on to her students with accuracy and understanding.

The problems of agriculture are discussed in detail in Mr. Hindle's Agriculture classes. Practical Application of the subject is stressed. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Hindle the Future Farmers of America is an organization which has grown from this subject.

MISS STOOPS

MISS MAUCK

MISS LAUTERBUR

Mr. Ruby, better known as "Coach," has a full schedule attaining victories for Crown Point High in the sports field. Coach also produces amazing results in his chemistry and biology classes.

Physical fitness shares the limelight with health and safety during Mrs. Palmer's daily program. Also sponsor of the Girls Athletic Association, she furthers her goals of good sportsmanship, strong bodies, and healthy minds.

Mr. Scales conveys his knowledge in the mathematical field to his classes in algebra and plane geometry. A great asset to Mr. Scales, is the experience he acquired while instructing physical education classes in the Navy.

A better understanding of world events, past and present, is acquired in Mrs. Seamonson's world and United States History classes. As a senior sponsor, helpful guidance is respected and appreciated.

A new comer, Miss Jenkins has taken over the responsibilities of a varied schedule. She has introduced into our curricular a new language, Spanish. Freshman English and Senior Civics classes are also under her direction.

Invaluable to the office worker is the training under the supervision of Miss Rickenbaugh. She is also co-sponsor of the Sunshine Society.

Mr. Denny, a newcomer to our daily programs, is another member of the shop staff. He also oversees classes in high school mathematics.

Miss Rickenbaugh and Mrs. King, sponsors

This society is a state organization active in many high schools in Indiana. Their motto "Others" explains the traditions of the girls belonging to the Sunshine Society.

Throughout the years, all activities are centered around the motto. Each girl contributes money to the Riley Children's Hospital in Indianapolis. Tray favors are sent to people in the Parramore Tubercular Sanatorium at Christmas, and on Thanksgiving, baskets of food are given to the poor. These are only a few of the many helpful projects undertaken by the Sunshine Society.

N. F. L.

N. F. L. represents all speech activities including original oratory, dramatic declamation, oratorical declamation, humorous declamation, extemporaneous speaking, debate, and poetry reading.

Members of the N. F. L. so far this year are Joan Hooseline, Lilyan Vartanian, Claire Agnew, Alda Vellutini, Virgadell Kenney, Everett Moore, Norman Moore, John Grayson, and John Stuhlmacher.

SPEECH CLASS

Under the direction of Miss Mauck, would-be speakers have the finer points of their speaking brought into the lime-light.

THE TREASURY HOUR

The sale of victory stamps and bonds are promoted during the "Treasury Hour." Orders are taken every Thursday by the girls pictured above with Mrs. King.

SPORTSMEN

Next on our program is the Rifle Club. All members of this act participate in special performances given at noon.

THIS FARMING BUSINESS

Here we find our prospective farmers learning the arts and sciences of running a farm economically and efficiently.

DINNER BELL TIME

Everyday between broadcasts, the members of the studio make a mad dash to the cafeteria for an excellent well-balanced lunch prepared by Mrs. Nesbitt and her assistants.

THIS IS YOUR F. B. I.

Order must be maintained! Such is the duty of the Student Council. No one is allowed to run through our studios or wander around the corridors.

SUSPICION

Hall monitors under orders of the Student Council help conduct all missing person searches.

ONE-TWO-THREE TIME

Two days of every week find Mrs. Palmer, our instructor, giving suggestions on how to become a better sport. Games entered into are baseball, basketball, volley ball, and track.

Sports Review

The Lettermen's Club of Crown Point High, composed of major letter winners in golf, football, track, and basketball sponsored a number of activities during the school year under the leadership of Malcolm Ruby.

The Lettermen with Carl Steuer, president; Dick Platt, vice-president; Harry Lundgren, secretary; Lowell Baker, treasurer; and Bob Pitts, sergeant-at-arms; successfully sponsored two dances. They also donated $100 for the new basketball scoreboard.

The unsung heroes of the football squad were the ever-helpful managers. They handled the football equipment and were always on hand at practices and games. Pictured here are Bobo Hayes, Bill Frederick, Harry Claussen, and Jerry Dance.

The two most experienced senior players, Dick Platt and Carl Steuer, were selected to be co-captains during the 1945 football season. These two boys led an inexperienced squad through a hard-fought season.

In the first game the Bulldogs dropped a hard-fought encounter to the Valparaiso Vikings. Valpo made its winning touchdown by a blocked punt. The following Friday night the Red Devils of Lowell journeyed to Crown Point to drop our Bulldogs in a pitched battle fought in mud and rain. In the Catholic Central game the Bulldogs led throughout the first half, but a second period surge on the part of the Warriors defeated the Crown Point eleven. Tolleston defeated Crown Point a week later in a game where the Bulldogs made another good attempt to win by making a touchdown early in the game. Hobart handed the Bulldogs their biggest defeat of the season by making all their points in the first half and holding Crown Point scoreless all through the last half. Rensselaer won another nip and tuck game from the Bulldogs on the Crown Point field. In the second game between Lowell and Crown Point, the traditional rivalry was noticeable both on the field and among the spectators. The season ended with the Griffith game. Again the team made a desperate but unsuccessful attempt to win.

Win or lose, however, the Bulldogs always fought hard and played an admirable game.

The Bulldogs' admiring fans were led in yells by five conscientious cheerleaders: Janet Palmer, Irmgard Tauck, Eugene Lottes, Corky Manders, and Betty Lowe.

The Bulldogs, after a very dismal start in which they dropped their first four games and nine out of their first thirteen games, closed the season with the record of nine victories against eleven losses. This excludes the state tournament game.

The Bulldogs, as usual, started off against Merrillville to whom they dropped an overtime game. Then followed successive defeats to Valparaiso, Portage, and Edison of Gary. Finally, the Bulldogs got on the victory trail with repeated successes over Wirt and Morocco, but slipped back in the rut by dropping games to Lowell and Griffith.

Just before the Holiday Tourney, the Bulldogs beat East Gary. The men from Crown Point High split even during this tourney dropping a close game to the "Champs," Griffith, after walloping the boys from De Motte.

Following their fine play against Griffith, the Bulldogs lost to the Panthers of Griffith after leading most of the game.

Then came the late season surge of the Rubymen with triumphs over Hobart, Merrillville, Wheeler, and Dyer. The Bulldog victory string was snapped down by Rensselaer. Later in the week the Bulldogs tasted sweet revenge, trampling the Red Devils of Lowell. The Brickies of Hobart beat the Bulldogs in the final game of the season.

The Bulldogs dropped their sectional game to Merrillville, thus bringing the basketball season to a close.

The Record

Our lost boy, Steve Ordog, returns to high school.

Fred Mecklenberg, our janitor, "keeps the home fires burning."

Judging by the apparatus in the hands of these seniors, the photographer, Mr. Reeves is present.

Jim Prendergast, one of the returned veterans, busily engages himself in his studies.

A typical Friday night get-together. Harry, what is so funny?

DEBATERS

These people gave a debate on the topic, "Resolved: That every able-bodied male citizen of the United States should have one year of full-time military training before reaching the age of 24." Those participating were Dick Kruzan, Norman Moore, Phyllis Seramur, Charles Erler, and Ross Graeber, Jr.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Gene Kubal and Vivian Meeker obtained membership to the Quill and Scroll Society for high school journalists by writing outstanding script for our bi-weekly reminder the "Inklings".

LIBRARIANS

The librarians have worked very diligently to keep our scripts on file and in very neat order. Members on the staff are Phyllis Bower, Ileen Hayes, Phyllis Pattee, Norene Kaldahl, Leota Stevenson, Ruth Raschka, Irene Duchert, Gene Kubal, Betty Fuerst, Miss Stoops (sponsor), and Jean Hobson.

The Excalibur Staff wishes to express its utmost appreciation to the faculty, and the townspeople for their fine co-operation in making the Broadcast Edition of the 1946 Excalibur possible.
